COUNTY FAIR IS A BIG SUCCESS

92nd Annual Beamsville Fair Breaks all existing Records As Thousands Flock To Improved Fair Grounds To Witness Fine Harness Racing And Large Showing Of Livestock — Fruit Displays Still Under Par For Fruit Belt.

The months of preparation put forth by Raymond Comfort and his associates paid large dividends on Saturday, when a record smashing crowd of some six thousand packed the grounds for the 92nd Clinton and Louth Agricultural Fair—or as it is more commonly known, the Beamsville Fair.

Saturday's attendance is thought to have established a new single day's attendance for the fair which this year was stretched to three days, as it becomes the most prominent fair in all of Lincoln.

Not only did the exhibitors in all classes take a more active part, but the directors of the fair board made every effort to "dell up" the grounds and in general make the scene a very gay as well as educational one.

Strangely enough the Beamsville Fair continues to show a definite lack of interest by the fruit growers of the district, while cattle, (Continued on Page 5)

SCHOOL BUS CLIPS POLE—DRIVER SUFFERS CHEST INJURIES

George Upper of Beamsville, suffered chest injuries Tuesday afternoon, when he apparently lost control of the school bus he was operating and crashed into a telegraph pole on King Street east, Beamsville. He had just returned from the Vineland-Jordan area where his load of Beamsville High School students had been dispatched. Upper was alleged to have passed a double line of traffic and the bus mounted a bank along the street and crashed into the pole. The bus was damaged to the extent of eight hundred to nine hundred dollars. Provincial Constable Tom Maxwell investigated, and said that charges are pending. Upper was attended by Dr. Harold D. Latham, and removed to hospital for X-Rays of his chest.

Forsyth Rabbitry of Grimsby, made a clean sweep of all first prizes with their exhibit of Flemish Giant rabbits at Beamsville Fair.

Chris Andrewes — Peach King

From the orchards of Chris Andrewes, prominent fruit grower of the Lower Thirty District, came three baskets of Elberta peaches that won the red ribbon at the Beamsville Fair, as the Fair Board inaugurated a competition especially for the fruit belt at this year's three day fair. Growers from all parts of the fruit belt competed for the grand championship, and here Corlene Dwyer of Grantham Township, admires the three baskets of peaches that won for Mr. Andrewes the title of Peach King for 1949. Mr. Andrewes is a director of Niagara Packers Ltd. and one of the district's largest grower of peaches.

Five Baby Show Winners In One Family

The family of R. B. Grant, Grimsby Beach, is keeping up a happy tradition of winning baby shows. Saturday, when their new three-months-old twins won first prize ribbons at the Beamsville fair baby show, they made five winners in the family of five. Here, Mrs. Grant, who won at the same fair 23 years ago, holds the husky prize twins, Heather Dawn and Maureen Lynn. At right, Mr. Grant, who won at Winnipeg 26 years ago, holds their son, William Alexander, who won a first prize at Beamsville two years ago.—Staff Photo, Standard Engraving.

ONTARIO CHAMPIONSHIP

The Lower Thirty Juvenile C football team has reached the Ontario finals, and will play the first game on Saturday, September 17, at the Thirty School grounds at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Bev Black told The Independent yesterday that the opposing team, Farham, were the runners up last year, being eliminated by Selkirk for the Ontario Juvenile C championship. Farham is a community some fifty miles north of Kingston.

The Thirty played in New Toronto on Saturday and won by such a decisive score that the opposition defaulted the second game.

A large crowd is expected this Saturday, when the snappy Thirty team makes a bid for the first Ontario football championship in this area in many years.

BUILDING PERMITS ISSUED FOR $20,000

More Building Lots Sold By Town Council — 16 Charges Under Liquor Control Act During August.

Other than complaints against Chief Constable William James by ex-councillor C. M. Bonham, purely routine business was transacted at last Friday's meeting of town council.

Building permits totalling close to $20,000 were authorized, with construction ranging from a garage and workshop to minor dwelling alterations. C. C. Chernier and Frank Shaw were each granted permission to erect $6,000 dwellings, the latter also receiving approval for construction of a $6,000 garage and workshop on the same property. Store front alterations to a value of $800 were authorized for J. Stadler, and John Lewis received permission to make alterations to a house.

The necessary three readings were given to by-laws authorizing sale of town building lots in Lakeview Gardens Survey to Mrs. Lilian R. Potter, Orrin Conby, W. Gordon May and Robert H. Potter. (Continued on Page 5)

Adverse Weather Conditions Caused Decrease In Original Estimate—Total Cherry Crop Now Estimated To Have Been 225,530 Bushels — Grape Prospects Have Deteriorated Since Last Report.

The Ontario Fruit and Vegetable Statistics Committee in co-operation with the Fruit Division of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, have prepared the following information on the condition of fruit and vegetable crops in Ontario as at August 15th, 1949.

WESTERN ONTARIO

General: While weather and moisture conditions have generally been favourable for growth and development, drought has continued in the Niagara District and to some extent in the Georgian Bay area. This condition has adversely affected sizing, except where irrigation has been carried out, and some apprehension is felt regarding cumulative effects on fruit trees, vines and berry patches both from the standpoint of weakening, defoliation, as well as fruit bud development, for next year. There has been no hail or wind damage reported from any district.

PEGGY O'NEIL MADE HEADLINES OF BIG AMERICAN NEWSPAPERS

By Wesley Hicks, Toronto Telegram Staff Reporter

Margaret Lynn Munn, the Toronto and Vancouver girl who carried the Miss Canada banner in the Miss America pageant at Atlantic City, was very excited and thrilled and pleased Friday, and she did it all by proxy.

Thursday night, Margaret won the talent contest in her division when she sang Bempe from La Traviata. On Wednesday night she appeared in evening dress; Friday night she trotted her charms in a bathing suit, and Saturday night she came out for the grand finale when Miss America was chosen.

But Thursday night was Margaret's big night. Her chaperone, Peggy O'Neil, of Grimsby, Ont., said so. Her chaperone was excited and thrilled and pleased for Margaret, because if Margaret gives a direct interview she is disqualified from the Miss America pageant.

"Margaret is very excited and very thrilled and very, very pleased," Peggy O'Neil said. "And she should be, too. All these girls down here in the pageant are terrific. They're beautiful and they have talent. You should see them."

Peggy sighed ecstatically for Margaret. "And you should have heard Margaret last night!" Peggy said, and her voice was all tangled up in her sigh. "She was marvellous."

"She just stood up there in front of all those thousands of people and she sang like a — like a — like a lark. Like a really happy lark."

"And you should have heard the crowd when she had finished! They clapped and clapped and clapped." (Continued on Page 4)

GRIMSBY SIGN CASE IN COURT NEXT WEEK

Highway Minister Doucett And Other Officials Must Appear In Lincoln County Court On Monday Next.

The court case involving the removal of the sign beside the Queen Elizabeth Way advertising the El Rancho Cambria restaurant west of Grimsby is to come before Judge Thomas Darby in a special sitting of the Lincoln County Court next Monday.

Following a dispute last November after Mildred E. Dixon, proprietress of the restaurant, had erected the sign in a field near the highway, officials of the department of highways allegedly removed the sign. They claimed it should not have been erected without a permit, while Miss Dixon contended that she had tried repeatedly to seek permission through the proper channels to approve the sign.

Miss Dixon's solicitors, Trapnell, Fleming, Harris & Kerwin, subpoenaed Hon. George Doucett, minister of highways, his deputy minister, J. D. Miller, and other officials of his department to appear as witnesses in the case. Solicitors from the department were successful in having the trial transferred to Toronto for the convenience of (Continued on Page 5)

SCHOOL'S ENROLMENT ABOUT SAME AS LAST YEAR SAY PRINCIPALS

Close to six hundred children are back behind their desks at the two Grimsby schools, with both the Public and High Schools reporting an enrolment of about the same as last year, 381 are registered at the Public School, while Principal Don, and Aude reports between 300 and 205 students now in attendance at Grimsby High.

At the senior institute of learning, Grade 9 and 11 are very heavy, while the upper school is about average.

Principal Kenneth Griffith told The Independent that the kindergarten and primary classes are "full to the ears" and are forced to run half days. A mixed room of grades 1, 2 and 4 has also been established under the guidance of Miss Grogg. All rooms at the public school have close to forty in attendance, which is considered a large enrolment. The entrance class is also extremely large, with forty-one in attendance.

Children's Aid Superintendent Requested To Give Explanation For Closing Of Durham Residence As Home For Wards Of Children's Aid — A Light Session Of Township Council.

North Grimsby Township Council have requested Mr. Findlay, Superintendent of the Lincoln County Children's Aid Society to provide his reasons for the removal of several wards of the Aid from the home of Mrs. Charles Durham, Grimsby Beach. The request was made in the form of a motion at a special meeting of Council held last week, and followed a survey of the situation by Deputy Reeve Sam G. Bartlett. The motion in part read: "In view of the widespread interest and sympathy being extended to Mrs. Charles Durham of North Grimsby, on account of the sudden removal from her home of wards of the Children's Aid Society, . . . Councillor Lewis McNiven's name proposed that of Bartlett's on the motion that is likely to bring some interesting answers from the Superintendent of the Children's Aid Society."

The special meeting was also in the form of a Court of Revision, and included the following revisions:

The Johnson property, Con. 1, Lot 13, 11 acres with a total assessed value of $800.00 be changed to P. Lambert, the present owner.

That the property of Kenneth Ramsey, No. 579 on the Roll, Con. 2, Lot 7, be changed from S.S. 3 to S.S. 1.

That the property owned by West Lincoln Memorial Hospital with a total assessed value of $1050.00 be placed on the exempt column.

Ex-Councillor Charges That Chief Constable James Entered His Lakeshore Property "Without Permission, Warrant Or Authority Of Any Kind" — Claims His Property Was Damaged By Digging. The Earth Being "Thrown Into The Lake."

By IAN MURDOCH
The actions of Chief Constable William James following the discovery of human bones on the former Lake Lodge School property earlier this month will be aired at a special meeting of council, Mayor Clarence Lewis announced Friday night following charges by ex-councillor C. M. Bonham that the police chief was "autocratic and over-bearing," and had exceeded his authority during his investigation.

The meeting will be open to the public, the mayor said.

On the floor for most of the meeting, the former police committee chairman parried verbally with ratepayers and councillors alike while charging that the constable entered his lakeshore property "without permission, warrant or authority of any kind," and permitted damage to his property through digging, the freshly dug earth being "thrown into the lake."

Assured by Mayor Lewis that the Crown Attorney (H. H. Lancaster, K.C.) had informed him that the police chief's actions were proper and in order on instructions of the coroner. Mr. Bonham alleged that "the damage was done before the coroner ever got there."

"NEIGHBOURLY NEWS" TO BE PUBLISHED

Excerpts From Broadcasts Of Late Andy Clarke To Be Produced In Book Form.

Title of the forthcoming volume of excerpts from the late Andy Clarke's radio broadcasts will be "Andy Clarke and his Neighbourly News." "Neighbourly News" was the name of the Sunday morning broadcast of items from weekly papers which Andy conducted for seven years before his death last year.

In announcing the title, Ryerson Press also states that Thorau Macdonald will do the art for the book, including the jacket. His work will include a frontispiece and chapter heads for the 12 monthly sections in which the book is divided.

Greg Clark, who joined with a group of Andy's friends in winnowing a million words of his broadcasts down to 60,000, wrote the introduction. Publication is set for October.

We know many Independent readers will want to procure a copy of this book.

FRUIT BY AIR

It is with great pleasure that I read in my own paper an article by Gordon McGregor, and articles in other papers, about the successful attempt by the Beamsville Co-Operative Co., in shipping Grimsby to Vine-land peaches to foreign ports by air. First Bermuda and now Switzerland.

FRUIT BY AIR has been an obsession with me for the past six years, ever since that day in February, 1943, when the late James A. Wray walked into the Sanctum Sanctorum and in his jovial blunt way said: "Are all we fruit growers dead, both ways from the equator?" I had no answer. I did not know what he meant.

"Jimmy" then went ahead and explained, that in his opinion, fruit from the Great Grimsby district could be flown to all parts of the world. I listened to his argument and I did some checking. I was not an air-man, I was always an army-man. The light of day suddenly broke.

Then, for six years, off and on, this column and this newspaper has consistently argued for shipment of FRUIT BY AIR to foreign countries.

At that time, six years ago, the late Mr. Wray and this writer studied maps and airline time tables until we were blue in the face and this newspaper published those time tables. Time schedules of how long it would take for the arrival in Moscow, London, Tokyo and other centres for a peach picked in Grimsby to arrive there. Nobody paid any attention.

At one time I had a great dream, that blew-up like all dreams do, of a great airport landing field on the Split Rock. I could even see the transport planes, the Peach King, the Peach Queen, the Peach Prince, the Peach Princess, and planes with similar names, landing and loading and going again, to foreign ports all over the world.

In many instances I was laughed at and ridiculed, possibly by some of the fruit growers that are now packing and loading peaches on those trans-atlantic planes. It was all water off my back for I felt that the day would come when Grimsby peaches would fly around the world. That all district fruits would become household words in all the foreign ports of the world.

I wish to congratulate Beamsville Co-Operative and all its 186 members for their achievement in shipping FRUIT BY AIR. In the years to come there is going to be more fruit go out of this great district of ours by air than will go out by land or water.

I do not wish in any way to belittle the great work accomplished by the Beamsville Co-Operative, or any other connections they have, but I do wish to remind them that their successful shipments of FRUIT BY AIR is not the first successful shipment, and must not go on the record as such.

Away back in 1930—19 years ago—at the request of the late Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Niagara Packers Limited, packed and shipped several cases of peaches from this district on the giant Zeppelin R-101, in care of Commander Barney, to His late Majesty King George Fifth and Queen Mary. Those peaches were personally selected and packed under the supervision of Earl J. Marsh, General Manager of the Packers.

I am tickled to death that Beamsville Co-Operative have broken the ice and started overseas shipments of FRUIT BY AIR on a large scale. I hope that their lead will be followed by other shipping and co-operative companies, then my dream of all those huge airliners leaving and landing from the Split Rock Airport will come true.

A REAL PRESS TABLE

It warmed the cockles of my old heart on Friday night to look at the Press table in the Council Chambers—it was not the terrible table, as provided by town council for use of the press, that warmed my heart, it was the men who sat around that terrible poorly-lighted table.

A Father and a Son. The father is one of the best newspapermen in this country, but the son is a better one. The son was representing The Independent, and this newspaper certainly did not, nor never will lose anything by his representation.

I speak now of E. Bruce Murdoch, crack news-photographer of the Hamilton Spectator and his son, Ian Murdoch, News Editor of The Commercial News of Toronto. Owing to the disability of the editor of this paper and the fact that Gordon McGregor had a million other things to do, Ian was filling in the breach, just the same as he did many a time during his five years service overseas in the last war. A good soldier and now a great newspaperman, and going to be greater.

I never had anything to do with the training of Ian Murdoch as a newspaperman, but I did have a few little tit-bits to do with his father Bruce, but that was not a tough job for Bruce was inherently a newspaperman so therefore Ian with the help of his Mother comes by it naturally.

That terrible old Press table certainly looked grand the other night, far better than if I had been sitting there, because there was a Father and Son combination working for competitive newspapers and in harmony.

I still think that the best newspaperman of the two was working for The Independent.

GALA SEPTEMBER

Along zigzag rail fences and lichen etched stonewall spikes of goldenrod lift their heads. Wild blue asters reflect the blue of September sky where flocks of shaggy clouds meander slowly along unmarked highroads. Mornings are crisp and cool and any day now there will be a frosted white lacing over the brown-green covering of the meadows. One dawn soon the country man will find a thin, brittle ice sheet over the barnyard watering trough. Sunrises are bursts of glory these days as long, red fingers reef in night's curtain.

Apples hang heavy on the bough and men hasten to get the fruit under cover before a killing black frost lays its blighting hand on the land. Corn shocks stand in parallel rows across the fields, reminding one of the brown-gold teepees. Orange, green and yellow squashes are heaped against the north sides of barns with old quilts and horse blankets ready for a below-freezing night. Red kidneys, yellow-eyes and pea beans are stacked around brushy poles, waiting to be hauled into the barn. During warm mid-day hours a purple-violet haze shimmers above meadows, fields, pastures and mountains. Late-staying birds rather in clans and swirl over the fields. Solitary crows stalk among the corn stalks and chickadees call from the old pear trees.

There's a distinctive brilliance to the air on a blue-gold September day. The river in the valley resembles a slender, twisting silver thread. The elms and willows along the banks make an intricately stitched seam above the slow moving waters creeping to the sea. Distant mountains seem peculiarly close on a bright day.

This is Nature's time of fulfillment. Man has plowed, cultivated and harvested. When one comes in from evening chores he stops a minute to look at the twinkling lanterns hung thickly in the sky. A sudden pressure of cold breeze warns that the Winter King has sent out his advance scouts. But now for a period September's beauty blesses the land.—Ottawa Journal.

HYDRO SETS ALL-TIME RECORD

A new all-time record in the history of Hydro expansion in rural Ontario is in the making with this year's scheduled program of new rural line construction now past the half-way mark and going forward at an accelerated pace.

This fact is revealed in Hydro Chairman Robert H. Saunders' progress report on rural expansion which states that the schedule for the calendar year, ending December 31, calls for the building of over 5,200 miles of new rural line and the addition of 42,820 new rural consumers. Mr. Saunders also pointed out that up to August 19 this year, 3,163 miles of line had been built and 28,973 new consumers had received service, bringing the total number of miles of rural line in service up to 30,484 and the number of rural consumers to 249,062.

As is the case with most outdoor construction, said Mr. Saunders, the greatest progress with the rural program is made during the late spring, summer and early fall. This, of course, does not mean that there is no activity in the winter months, he added, since in January of this year 275 miles of rural line were constructed and 1,800 consumers added. These figures compared favourably with the month of May when 295 miles were constructed and 2,875 consumers connected. The building program will continue at full speed from this point on, until the advent of cold weather late in the fall forces certain curtailments.

The history of rural electrification goes back many years to the time when small, isolated groups of farmers, whose properties were located adjacent to urban centres were able to make arrangements with nearby municipalities for connection with their Hydro systems.

As more and more farmers and other rural residents came to realize the advantage ages inherent in electrification, the demands for service reached a point where municipal systems found it inadvisable to continue extension of their lines beyond the corporation boundaries.

Thus, in 1921, the Commission began its active rural program. Prior to that time, fewer than 3,000 rural consumers were being served. However, within ten years after the program had been initiated, the number of consumers had reached 55,000.

The Hydro Chairman went on to illustrate the overall progress of the rural expansion program by referring to the statistics for the past 14 years. In 1935, 443 miles of rural line were constructed. In the next four years that figure steadily increased until, in 1939, 2,670 miles of line were completed and 17,706 consumers given service. During the war years, shortages of materials and manpower forced a drastic curtailment in the construction of rural lines. In 1943 only 2,005 new consumers received service as only 21 miles of new lines were constructed. However, from that point on, activity was gradually stepped up to the point where 1948 witnessed the record totals of 26,036 consumers connected through the construction of 3,556 miles of new rural line.

Another feature of the post-war years has been the astonishing increase in rural load. At the end of 1948 the Commission was supplying 111,225 horsepower to its rural consumers. By the end of 1948 this figure had soared to 193,144 horsepower.

This increase in the rural load is partly attributable to the fact that farmers and other rural residents, in ever-increasing numbers, have become aware of the advantages of using low-cost power.

In this connection, it is interesting to note that although the use of electricity on the farm has multiplied over the years its cost to the farmer has steadily decreased in the face of increased operational and other costs. For example in 1928 the farmer paid an average cost of more than five cents per kilowatt-hour. His average power consumption in that year amounted to 96 kilowatt-hours a month and his average monthly bill was $4.87. During 1947, the farmer paid an average of 1.66 cents per kilowatt-hour. His average monthly bill was only $3.97 in spite of the fact that his average monthly consumption had increased to 228 kilowatt-hours. However, it is unanimously agreed that increasing costs of labour and materials will ultimately increase the cost of power to consumers in order to permit the Commission to maintain its fine record of service on a sound financial basis.

In concluding his report, Mr. Saunders stated: "These figures give a clear picture of the increasingly important role electricity is playing in the life of rural Ontario."

NOAH'S ARK

Noah's Ark is one of the oldest stories in human history. Five Americans are trying to find the Ark somewhere above the snow line on Mount Ararat. A Russian aviator who flew over the peak 33 years ago reported that he saw the ark. Mount Ararat is 17,000 feet, a huge broad-shouldered mass with snow at the 14,000 foot level.

An exchange quotes the Encyclopedia Britannica:

"There is poetical fitness in the legend that Ararat was the resting place of Noah's Ark, inasmuch as the mountain is about equally distant from the Black Sea and the Caspian, from the Mediterranean and the Persian Gulf. Round Mt. Ararat gather many traditions connected with the Deluge. The garden of Eden is placed in the valley of the Araxes; Mariat is the burial place of Noah's wife; at Arghuri, a village near the great chasm, was the spot where Noah planted the first vineyard, and here were shown Noah's vine and the monastery of St. James until village and monastery were overwhelmed in a fall of rock, ice and snow shaken down by an earthquake in 1840."

Discussing the venture and bringing the human touch into the subject, Dave Boone in The New York Sun, quotes some timely Scripture:

Five Americans are on a search for Noah's Ark and I hope they find it as it looks more and more like we might need it again.

This time we would need to have arks by a production line, and personally I'd want to depend on the original model after considering the mass modern improvements have gotten us into.

The search will cause millions of people to reread Genesis and the words, "And God saw that the wickedness of man was great and that every imagination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually. The earth also was corrupt and filled with violence."

Seven of all clean beasts and two of all unclean were taken on the Ark. I doubt today that you could get that many animals, even the unclean, to go on to an ark willingly with human beings in their present shape.

Question might be properly advanced: Was the building of the Ark really the result of the flood or of the first world housing shortage?

HOW VERY TRUE—

Operating a newspaper today combines all the features of crossing the Grand Canyon on a tightrope, lunching with Gargantua and chinning one's self on a rainbow. A publisher or editor in modern times needs the jaw of Joe Grimm, the spirit of the Boy Who Stood on the Burning Deck, the pluck of Hercules, the spirit of David and a little spare equipment from Aladdin the Wonderful Lamp boy. He is doing one of the most important jobs in the country, shouldering one of the most vital responsibilities, tackling the tasks of Superman; and doing it while considered a legitimate target for indiscriminate rock heaving.

Don't think to hunt two hares with one dog.

I still want to know why George Smye does not give that beautiful town team something to eat. Greatest advertisement that Grimsby ever had on public view. Ask the Tanks.

Wandered into Theal Bros. the other afternoon looking for some sour pickled onions and met the effervescent Ethel Voigt and she introduced me to a new breed of onions. Holy Toledo, red, yellow and green colored pickled onions. What next, Blue Bananas?

If little Dyke doesn't stop putting baited mouse traps on my desk there is going to be a dissolution of partnership. I reach for the paste brush and get me fingers caught in a mouse trap. You know the rest of it—X-N-Y-S-T-L and so on.

Am I in trouble??? Now my Little Peach Bod is riding the range and demanding to know who, what, where and when and several other things about my eight beautiful widows. Man never was anything but a NUT and I'm the biggest one of them all.

Vanishing Canadianisms

"As long as I'm working I can afford a new suit every year."
"Let's go to Casey's. He sets 'em up every third round."
"The landlord paints the apartment every 18 months."
"We never have any trouble with our tenants."
"It's the cook's night out, let's go to a restaurant."
"Do you want to start early and beat the traffic."
"All buttons are carefully replaced by our laundry."

"ETAQIN SHRDLU"

The following poem, the author of which is unknown to us, is quite interesting by virtue of the fact that it uses something that is a bugbear to every printer, "etaoin shrdlu" is actually the rotation of the letters on a Linotype keyboard when the fingers are allowed to run from the top to the bottom, and are used for quickness to fill out a line in which an error has occurred. The author has certainly put this "Linotype convenience" to good use in the accompanying verses:

These letters that the printers use—or misuse—as you will,
Are really very handy when you have a blank to fill.
For instance, when you're carving and the missus glares at you,
You save your face and savour faire with "etaoin shrdlu."

Your boss is death on drinking, so you tell of one big party
Where everyone was happy and was eating very hearty;
One man got up to give a toast, to you, and you, and you,
And everybody took a swig of "etaoin shrdlu."

A here you meet upon the street is telling you a story
Of how he caught that ten-ton fish, with bumper old and hoary,
You realize you have to catch a train at ten past two
So you sagely nod and pass him by with "etaoin shrdlu."

The wedding was a nifty one, the daily paper tells;
The church was full of orange blossoms, tall silk hats, and swells;
The bridesmaids, flower girl, and page were charming in pale blue
The bride wore white, of course; the groom wore "etaoin shrdlu."

You're five days late on deadline and your boss is breathing fire,
"Get busy on that story!" and your blood pressure goes higher.
You simply aren't inspired; you haven't got a clue,
So you toss the boss a paper saying "etaoin shrdlu."

It means "I'm worked too hard, sir" but he doesn't get the drift;
Of all your slaving, toil and weariness he makes short shrift.
In fact, you know you've had it when he whispers low to you
"My girl, you're not a bad sort, but—"etaoin shrdlu."

Loggers Face Unemployment

Loggers and sawmill workers around Fort William, Ont., are threatened with unemployment. Lumber companies say they will lay off up to 1,000 men this fall, because, they say, timber concessions are granted to the pulp and paper companies and not to the logging companies.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY A COMMUNITY RESPONSIBILITY

This is one of a series of articles submitted by the Children's Aid Society of the city of St. Catharines and the County of Lincoln. Our purpose is to further community understanding and interest in all programs dedicated to raising the standards of child and family life in our midst.

"BUT DO WE REALLY NEED A CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY?"

The policeman called to a home at 2:00 a. m. on a wintery night and finding four wee children all under six years of age huddled beside a cold stove; the minister faced with the problem of finding temporary housing for a recently evicted family consisting of a husband and who was out of work, his wife and three children; the school teacher who every day wonders why young Johnny is so tired looking and cries so easily in class and in the school yard.

One might say that while the Children's Aid Society is a community service in itself, it is also a liaison or "go between" service between the church, the school, the police department, the Health Unit and other groups coming into contact with the family both collectively and individually in various phases of their work.

The Children's Aid Society has become increasingly more than just an agency whose task it is to protect helpless children from bodily harm or from the irresponsible, thoughtless actions of their parents and others with whom they come into contact.

Men and women whose field of endeavour calls upon them to study the actions and the motives of their fellow-men from day to day, are fast realizing that there is a "cause and effect" relationship in practically everything we do and say.

The child who cries and sulks in school, who is unable to play with other boys and girls in a carefree, unselfish manner—this child to the social worker, psychologist and doctor is a disturbed child.

To people whose efforts are directed towards the developing of healthy boys and girls both physically and mentally, this type of child presents a real problem.

It is our task to look into and to study the child's background, his home life, how he gets along with the other members of his family, his playmates, etc. What about his physical health? Is there some physical or organic basis for his "always being out of sorts, cranky, unable to play with others, etc.?"

This type of child growing up into manhood or womanhood as the case may be, cannot possibly become an emotionally stable and helpful parent. And if such is the case, then the cycle is started all over again when his or her children are born into an unstimulating, unhappy home environment.

One might think that the Children's Aid Society had no claim of priority on the term "neglect" or in some respects neglect, in its various forms, was at one time the keystone or the pivot point of our whole existence as an agency.

However, to those of us engaged actively in Children's Aid work, it is a negative approach. Granted, it is a negative approach to investigate situations when it is felt that there has been "neglect" of children and where such is the case, we strive to eliminate it.

The breakdown of the average home life is invariably due to a chain of circumstances of which the following are but a few: poor preparation for marriage, cramped living quarters, excessive drinking, limited income, in-law interference and the inability of one or both of the parents to assume their fair share of family responsibilities.

When these factors are present in any home to the extent that they are out of proportion to the good and constructive things which go to make up family living, then someone is bound to suffer.

What more likely subject than is there, than the innocent, physically weak, and inexperienced, immature child. The wife frustrated over how to cope with an alcoholic husband takes out her feelings on the child who "is in the way; is always getting into mischief or crying for attention."

The husband in turn, upset over the fact that his wife is "always nagging or is a spendthrift" transfers his resentment to the child who "shuttles" back and forth between two disturbed parents.

When conditions of this kind persist over a period of time, the "child in the midst" cannot but help revealing some of the tendencies of his parents. Likewise he is more than likely to go unattended outside, to keep late hours, to take out his frustration on the neighbour's new shrub or flower garden, or to lash out at the child next door with a stick or burst of profanity.

When this stage is reached in "family disintegration", then the outside world begins to be in the know and complaints start coming into the Children's Aid Society.

Elimination of neglect, yes. However, of prime importance is the getting at the root causes of the family trouble and assisting both husband and wife to start building on the good and strong points of their married life, thus drifting their attention and emphasis from the factors in their wedded life which have proven in many cases almost unbearable.

Thus the Children's Aid Society endeavours to take its rightful place in the community with other agencies and forces for good, always bearing in mind that the character of no community is any stronger than the individual and families of which it is made.

yards of these all day. Mr. Bonham told council that no one "even had the courtesy to inform me of what they were doing there."

"No person, the chief or others, has the right to come on my property and destroy it," he declared. "I am entitled to his protection as police chief to see that people don't come on my property and destroy it."

Asked point-blank by Councillor W. W. Gosselin if he had "a definite dislike for the present man," Mr. Bonham retorted: "I'd like to ask you what your attitude would be if he came into your garden and dug it up while you were not there. The laugh might be on the other side if he walked into some of your places like that."

Claims of some members of council that digging began only after the coroner's arrival and "on his instructions" were termed "no many alibis" by Mr. Bonham.

A suggestion by the mayor that his complaint against the police chief be left with council, and that a special meeting of the police committee could be called "to go into the whole thing," received the scorn of the ex-councillor.

"That's just the kind of thing you put up all the time this year and a person can't get anywhere," he retorted. "I am disappointed that so many alibis are the only thing you can present. I was well aware that there was considerable scurrying around town to cover up this week."

"The whole thing was done before the coroner got there and there is no excuse for using the coroner as an alibi. It's very convenient to bring in the coroner as a cover-up after the damage had been done."

"I positively refuse to deal in any way with the police committee. There would be no action for the chairman (Councillor Douglas Scott) and the chief are in cahoots."

The mayor then agreed to call a special public meeting of council. Members of council were divided in their opinions on Mr. Bonham's complaint. Councillor William Leith, senior member of council, felt that the chief constable "went ahead with excessive zeal" and that he was in sympathy with Mr. Bonham and believed he was entitled to satisfaction.

While he was not entirely familiar with the background, Reeve A. C. Price commented that it seemed "there is courtesy lacking on the part of someone." Councillor Keith Brown agreed that private property should be respected. "The only common courtesy to notify the property owner," he said. "He should have notified you. There was no immediate urgency required." He's due for a reprimand, I think."

While the meeting was one of the shortest sessions of town council during recent years, being adjourned shortly after 9:30 p.m., following departure of ratepayers a lengthy "informal" committee meeting of the entire council was held in the clerk's office with the chief of police in attendance.

PEACH CROP

653,000 barrels, slightly better than July 15 report, and an increase of 23% over 1948 production. Niagara, Burlington and Elgin-Oxford show a betterment, more than offsetting slightly less favourable prospects in other areas. The rising has been adversely affected by dry weather in Niagara and Georgian Bay districts and particularly early fall apples. Scab is not serious and is confined largely to orchards where spray practices have not been properly applied. However, codling moth is reported as becoming more prevalent in most areas. Red mites, however, is being held fairly well in check by control sprays.

Pears: The revised total pear estimate is 36,755 bushels or an increase of 6% over last year. This estimate is made up of 139,800 bushels Bartlett (1948—80,925 bushels), Jeffers 188,470 bushels (1948—12,975 bushels), and O'Brien 349,755 bushels (1948—214,733 bushels). As in the case of apples lack of moisture is retarding the growth and development of unharvested varieties in the Niagara and Georgian Bay districts but all other areas report excellent conditions. Some pears and worm injury is noted, particularly in the Niagara area. Ear varieties have been harvested of Bartlett movement will commence about August 19th or 20th.

Plums: total estimated yield is now placed at 210,130 bushels compared to 2,825 bushels in 1948. This represents a slight increase over last year's estimate as reported for previous and European varieties. A further decrease anticipated the Plum crop. Continued dry weather in Niagara and Georgian Bay districts is causing some premature ripening but quality is otherwise good and a fair size in albert. Shires are now all harvested with generally good size and quality.

Peaches: Owing chiefly to the adverse effect of dry conditions in the Niagara area since the last report, a somewhat decreased total estimate, 1,139,100 bushels is reported, which however, is 10% higher than last year's final production. Good timing is reported from all districts except Niagara where rain is badly needed for mid-season and late varieties. During the abnormal hot weather, some sunscalding of fruit occurred requiring heavy culling, but Oriental fruit moth damage has been very light to date and practically no brown rot in evidence. Except for size in some instances, quality of peaches harvested to date has been excellent.

Cherries: With harvesting completed, the total cherry crop is estimated at 225,536 bushels or a decrease of 9% from 1948 figures. Sweets indicate an increase of about 2% with Sour showing a decrease of 11%. The cherry crop was harvested under excellent conditions with practically no decay, splitting or insect damage. However, some spraying has been necessary since harvesting to control yellow leaf.

Grapes: Grape prospects have deteriorated somewhat since last report with present estimated total now placed at 22,653 tons as compared to 27,279 tons in 1948, or a decrease of 19%. Blue grapes show a decrease of 23%. Red grapes a decrease of 10% with White grapes equal to last year's crop. In the main producing area of Niagara, moisture is badly needed for the development of the fruit, although to date vine growth is fairly satisfactory. Blue varieties show many bunches small, straggly and/or irregular in size. Pest control measures have generally been well applied. Light harvesting is now in progress of all early varieties including Fredonia, Portland and Ontario.

Strawberries and Raspberries: The following is the revised total production estimate, strawberries 4,362,190 qts. (decrease 49% from 1948) and raspberries 2,976,918 qts. (decrease of 4% from 1948). Berries have all been harvested except for a few still being marketed at Head-of-Lakes area due to cool weather and no lengthy rainfall. The raspberry crop there has been fair and realizing good prices. The last harvesting of strawberries at Head-of-Lakes was on July 30 with yield considerably below earlier anticipations.

PEGGY O'NEIL

They wanted an encore, but there are no encores in this pageant. Last night was really Margaret's night. She's very thrilled and very pleased and very, very excited."

Peggy sighed again for Margaret. "She has a marvelous chance down here," she said. "Really marvelous. And the crowd loves her. Every time she comes out, the crowd gives her a big hand. I think she's just wonderful."

Tonight, Peggy said, Margaret will appear in a bathing suit.

"How does she look in a bathing suit?" Peggy O'Neill snorted in outrage. "How does she look?" she asked on a rising note. "How does she look? She looks marvelous, that's how. You should see her!"

Then Peggy laughed happily. "And you should hear her, too," she said. "Last night she was just wonderful. Just wonderful."

LEGEND OF SOUTHWEST IS COMING TO ROXY

Death Valley, California, forms the spectacular background for M G M's Technicolor outdoor drama "3 Godfathers" starring John Wayne, Pedro Armendariz and Harry Carey Jr., playing at the Roxy on Friday, September 16th. Based on Peter B. Kyne's memorable tale of three western bad-men who make a desperate attempt to escape over the desert, fighting storms, a harrowing thirst and the ominous shadow of their pursuers, Wayne is the amiable two-fisted leader of the desperados, Armendariz is the sentimental Mexican, Carey the youthful member of the trio who is wounded after their attempt to hold up a bank. Together they match their wits against the prowling posse. Complications arise when they come upon a dying mother and are persuaded to adopt her infant child, a situation which gives way to both tender and humorous moments. In the end, Wayne is the lone survivor and, although he is apprehended, a twist of the tale turns him from villain to hero. Wayne, who has become a model for the screen's prototype of virile western heroes, his most recent success having been "Fort Apache," is in top form in his latest portrayal. Armendariz contributes to the comedy overtones, and Harry Carey Jr. makes an auspicious debut.

BUILDING PERMITS

The town will receive $400 for the land.

On motion of Reeve A. C. Price and Councilor Keith Brown, permission of the Minister of Highways will be sought to make Livingston Avenue a stop street from Pison Street to Kerman Avenue.

Sixteen charges were laid under the Liquor Control Act during the month of August, according to the report of Chief Constable William James. The majority of these, the report stated, were against transients who took jail sentences. There were two charges under the Criminal Code and four accidents and five complaints were investigated. Two cases of theft were also reported. Collection of fines and court costs for the month brought $45 to the town coffers.

Claim for damages to his car by C. M. Bonham following collapse of a culvert on Maple Avenue was referred to the town's insurance adjusters for settlement. Accounts totalling $4,579.20 were passed.

Police Committee chairman Councilor Douglas Scott was instructed to check a complaint of speeding on Fairview Avenue.

COUNTY FAIR

grain and vegetable growers steal the show. For the first time a most strenuous effort was made to induce fruit growers to exhibit their produce, and although there was but more interest shown in the special prizes for peaches, the showing of fruit was hardly one that would indicate that Beamsville and surrounding district is one of the largest fruit growing sections in the Dominion.

As it was, Chris Andrews of the Lower Thirty was awarded the red ribbon for the best three basket pack of Elberta peaches. At least three of the runners-up were immediate neighbours of Mr. Andrews, which would indicate that the Thirty is a pretty good peach producing area. Mr. Andrews is one of the larger growers and a member of the Niagara Packers Limited.

Livestock entries were extremely good, and judges were most enthusiastic about the quality of the cattle and horses shown. From the dairy country south of the fruit belt came strong contenders for the black-and-white show for Holsteins, grand champion bull, owned by R. H. Packham and Sons of Calcut Centre, took both junior and senior titles and contributed heavily to the herd's total of 115 points.

Track Events

As in every year, the track events are a big feature of the fall fair, this year's entry list of track horses from all points in South West Ontario broke all records. The 2:18 class had 12 horses entered and the race had to be broken into two parts with six horses in each event. Fifty dollars was added to the purse and it was divided equally between the two sections.

West Lincoln Track Meet

An innovation this year was the track meet for both public and high school students. Besides giving the children a holiday Friday afternoon, the event gave the schools a warm-up for their field day competitions coming up in the near future. Bobby Neale walked off with the senior championship, while Tommy Hayakawa placed second. Eileen Freure, a student of B.H.S. and daughter of Reeve Harold Freure of Clinton Township won the girl's senior championship, with Eleanor Grunewald placing second. Leo Weiss was the intermediate champ, Clarence Schinkel in second spot, while Margaret George and Frances Peck were intermediate girls' winners. Ronald Burton, George Creelman, Kay Grunewald and Marie Vail were junior top notchers.

Baby Show

No Fair would be complete without a Baby Show, and proud mothers brought their offspring to the G. W. Robinson tent where Health Unit Nurses had a difficult task in selecting winners.

Ribbons were awarded to the following: Twins, Heather Dawn and Maureen Lynn, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Grant, Grimsby Beach; girl, six months to one year, Charlotte, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Martin, Beamsville; boys, six months to one year, Paul Norman J. MacMillan whose appointment to be vice-president and general counsel of the Canadian National Railway Company and its subsidiaries, and the Canadian National West Indies Steamship Limited, has been announced by R. C. Vaughan, C.M.G., chairman and president of the system.

Robert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Westley, Grimsby Beach; girls, three to six months, Mariene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Cartwright, Beamsville; boys, three to six months, Roy, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Pilkington, Beamsville; girls, under three months, Connie June, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Allen, Beamsville; boys, under three months, Arthur, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Barfort, Beamsville.

Sweet Midway

Harness racing and a good midway were two of the top attractions, and this year the Beamsville Fair was featured by some very fine harness racing, while the midway was the best ever. There were plenty of booths to attract the gullible, which seems to be what everyone searches for, and refreshment booths did a land office business as appetites were keen in the fine fall weather. Many were sold out before six o'clock on Saturday, and had to be replenished for the big stage show which was put on both Friday and Saturday nights. Complete with jugglers, singers, comedians, and all the rest the show was a fine climax for the best Fair Beamsville has put over for a long time.

The directors, plagued with inclement weather for the past several years, moved the Fair ahead a full month—they gambled with the success or failure of such a move—they won.

GRIMSBY SIGN CASE

These witnesses, but Mr. Fleming appealed this decision. His appeal was upheld on Friday by Hon. Mr. Justice Gale, who directed that the trial should be heard in Lincoln County, the scene of this dispute.

In her claim Miss Dixon seeks financial compensation resulting from the damage to her sign, and because of loss of business through its removal. She also seeks an injunction to restrain highways de-

Dear Homemakers!

We made an excellent discovery at our house this week, a very good way to catch mice so I will pass the hint on to you. The traps were set with cheese but the mice were so cute. They would get the cheese off every time and not get caught themselves. Someone suggested that we use pieces of gum drop candy on the traps, and we did, and in a very short time two mice were caught. They didn't have a chance to even get any candy but were just able to get their teeth marks into it, so from now on, with us, it is gumdrops instead of cheese for catching mice.

A damp cloth, dipped in baking soda will remove black marks left by rubber heels on varnished or painted floors.

When making mustard, add a teaspoonful of salt (using milk instead of water) and the mustard will not harden but will keep fresh for a considerable time.

To keep icing soft, add a pinch of baking soda to the whites of the eggs before beating them, then beat in the usual way and pour the hot syrup over the beaten egg whites and it will be soft and creamy.

To beat eggs quickly, add a pinch of salt.

If soup is too salty, add slices of raw potato and boil a few minutes, remove them, and if soup is still too salty, repeat the process. The potatoes can be used later in many ways.

When making mayonnaise or cooked dressing that is to be kept for several days, add a little gelatine that has been first softened in cold water and dissolved over hot water.

Are you in the habit of wasting stalks of cauliflower? Save them and next day cut them lengthwise into two or three pieces according to the thickness. Tie in bundles and cook as asparagus, then drain and cover with a white sauce.

Honey may be used to mix with nuts for sandwiches; also used as a filling for tiny baking powder biscuits.

When boiling rice it is well to plan to have some left over. With

CARDIGAN COSTUME

By PRUNELLA WOOD

The cardigan which has left the sports scene to become a suit proper for town is a comparative newcomer, with Nettie Rosenstein designing versions for the coming Autumn and Winter, which is to say, also sponsoring it as a style.

an egg, milk, or a little fruit juice added, it will make a delicious pudding, or it may be made into croquettes or cream of rice soup.

When painting a ceiling or any overhead work, cut a large rubber ball in half, and push it up the handle of the paint brush as close as possible. The cup will catch all drippings and save spots on the floor or furniture.

After frying fish, pour a little vinegar into the pan and let it boil. It will remove odor of fish from the pan and the kitchen at the same time.

Cooky lollipops are a good substitute for the candy ones that mother cannot always approve. Cut any plain cooky dough into the shapes that please a child and in the centre of each cooky, place the dampened end of a lollipop stick. Bake as usual.

For the little tots who cannot reach the towel rack, a ring from an old embroidery hoop suspended by a tape from the bathroom rod makes a good towel holder. The ring can be enamelled and decorated if desired.

I know of one homemaker who keeps a covered basket containing small playthings, pictures, etc., in the living room. It has helped to make pleasant many visits when little people have found the conversation of grown-ups tedious.

When children are playing at the neighbours, an alarm clock placed in a window and set for the hour at which they are to come home, reminds them that the time has arrived. It is especially helpful with young children who have not learned to tell time.

When making jelly or jam, skim off with a clean vegetable brush the foam that gathers during the cooking. In this way the scum is removed without waste of jelly. It can be easily rinsed from the brush if any of you are accustomed to gathering straw flowers or sprigs of berries from the garden to use for a winter bouquet for the table, dip them in melted paraffin. They do not fade or dry, and tell apart as they do otherwise, and they can be dusted during the winter without breaking. I shall close this week with a recipe for End of the Garden Pickle. This recipe came from Mrs. Constance Downie of Clapton Corners.

End of the Garden Pickle

6 cups sugar.
2 qts. white wine vinegar.
One-third ounce celery seed.
One-third ounce mustard seed.
One-third ounce turmeric.
¼ cup mustard.

1 cup flour (heaping).
Method: Chop cucumbers if large and remove seeds, if small, do not peel. Cut in slices. Chop large onions. Put in salt and drain in the morning.

Cook corn, carrots, beans separately, green beans, shelled butter beans, Lima beans may be used, or some of each. All vegetables are cut in small pieces. Scald the cauliflower in strong salt water. Cut celery and peppers in small pieces.
When all is prepared mix ingredients adding sugar and vinegar and mustard and celery seed. Let boil all over and add the mustard and turmeric and flour mixed to a paste in vinegar.

Cook for half an hour over medium heat, stirring to avoid burning.
This makes a large quantity of delicious pickles.

We are and within our memory, Lamented our hearts to-day, For the one we loved so dearly, Has forever been called away. We think of her in silence, No eye may see us weep; But many silent tears are shed When others are asleep.

—Always remembered by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Cooby and husband, Jas. Fineck.

WOLF CUB PACK

The use of the Scout staff was the main topic at the first meeting of the troop for this season. Five Wolf Cubs who are of age were present to begin their Scout instruction. They were Robert Johnson, Barry Bourne, Murray Shaw, Jim Durham and Jon Hand.

The Scouts were sent outside in groups of three to construct a tripod for cooking use and it proved a difficult task until the little trick was mastered.

One of the better Scouts was left gasping during a game of Tunnel ball when the ball seemed to stay just beyond his grasp.

The new recruits are hard at work trying to pass their Tenderfoot tests and get into uniform before Apple Day in October.

Anyone who has parts of Scout uniform are asked to leave the necessary information with Mrs. P. Little of 4 Gibson Ave.

Margaret Lynn Munn, Miss Canada 1949, did not wear the Miss America Crown following the week-long competitions at Atlantic City last week, but she did earn an audition from the Metropolitan Opera, which happens to be the charming young lady's favorite ambition. Sponsored by Miss Peggy O'Neil of the Village Inn, Grimsby, Miss Munn won first in the test of talent at Atlantic City, and was listed in the fifteen finalists which earned her a $1,000 scholarship. She performed beautifully during the talent competition, singing an air from La Traviata. She and Miss O'Neil, her advisor and companion on the trip to Atlantic City, will soon leave for Peru, where they will visit as guests of the Peruvian government.

CHRISTMAS SEALS

The initial meeting of the Central Council of the Niagara Peninsula Sanatorium was held Monday afternoon in the Y.W.C.A. at St. Catharines. Eleven of the fifteen units were represented. Mrs. Walter Fisher, President of Queenston, presided at the meeting and Dr. Shaver outlined the plans for additional buildings to take care of the rehabilitation of the patients, teachers' work room and office, also a room in which religious services could be held.

It is the aim of the Central Council this year, through the sale of Christmas Seals to raise the necessary funds to carry on the preventive program of the Sanatorium and assist in the establishing of the rehabilitation centre.

After the necessary business was enacted a social half hour was spent with members of the Niagara Falls unit acting as hostesses.

HARVEST FESTIVAL
AT ST. JOHN'S CHURCH

St. John's Anglican Church celebrated their Harvest Festival last Sunday, with special services and music took place, under the charge of the Rector, Albert E. Ongley. The Church, decorated and completely renovated last year was beautifully and suitably decorated with fruit and flowers by the ladies of the Chancel Guild, led by Mrs. Armand Smith. A feature of the morning service was the presentation of a large Thanksgiving loaf, marking the third year of this gift from a family in the parish. The practice follows a tradition in the old country.

Services were held at regular time in the morning and a special evening service at 7 p.m., to which many came to mark the day with prayer.

BARNARD-JONES

Leaving afterward for a honeymoon trip to New York, Helen Joyce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jones, and Mr. Clifford Howard Scott Barnard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Barnard, Winona, were united in marriage Saturday afternoon, at 3 o'clock in St. James' Anglican Church, by the Rev. Morris C. Robinson.

Gladioli brightened the church, and Mr. Jack Shoemith played wedding music. Mrs. E. Paris was soloist.

Given away by her father, the bride was attended by her sister, Miss Thelma Ellen Jones, and Miss Mary Barnard, sister of the groom. Mr. Arthur Arkell, Winona, was groomsmen; ushers were Mr. Dennis Walker, St. Catharines, and Mr. Craig Alexander, Georgetown.

The bride's gown was of ivory satin with lace overskirt and lace at the neckline, her fingertip veil caught to an orange blossom headpiece. Her attendants wore in yellow and green taffetas respectively, with matching headpieces. The former with a bouquet of Tallman roses and mauve gladioli and the latter with yellow roses and mauve gladioli.

Eighty guests were received by the bride's mother, wearing a wine and grey ensemble with corsage of Rubrum lilies. A brown costume, with breast chrysanthemums in her corsage was worn by the groom's mother. For going away, the bride was in a light blue suit with hawthorn accents in navy. The couple will live at 138 Cumberland Avenue, Hamilton.

HORACE COCKS ASKS
WATER FOR WINONA

A representative group of Taxpayers on the Winona area led by Horace Cocks, was one of several delegations attending the busy session of the Township Council met last Tuesday.

On behalf of the group from Winona, Horace Cocks petitioned the Council for an extension of the water main operated by the E. D. Sm and Son Company, which would bring water to land owners as far as Lewis Road, on No. 8 highway. Two-thirds of the landowners in the area had signed the petition, representing 50% of the assessed value of land in that area. Cocks was given assurance the members of the council these wishes of the petitioners will be carried out as soon as possible, with the Township Council's help and co-operation.

A delegation of residents from Orchard Beach introduced the water problem again when they asked the advice of council about a recently proposed water system in that area. They were advised to proceed as the previous delegation from Winona had done; to obtain a petition from interested landowners then petition the Council.

The by-law was dealt with concerning the licensing of electricians and electric contractors operating in the township. Members of council have not yet passed the by-law, having decided the matter needed further consideration, in the interests of innocent people who might suffer from such a situation.

A by-law was also passed authorizing the borrowing of $5000.00 to finance erection of a building to be the main branch of the Saltfleet Public Library, council following the decision of the Library Board to erect the building on the half-acre lot immediately west of the Saltfleet War Memorial. Of the amount specified by the by-law, $2500.00 (approx.) will be spent acquiring the site, and $2500.00 in purchasing of a second hand building. Moving fixtures, and other incidentals which may arise will account for the remainder of the sum.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS
ENJOYS BEACH OUTING

The Sunday School pupils of St. John's Anglican church, Winona, enjoyed an outing at Lochside Beach last Saturday afternoon. From all reports a great time was held with games, contests, and baseball filling out a happy day. Refreshments were served by the mothers, with ice cream, chocolate milk supplied by the Sunday School.

The classes of the Sunday School will resume next Sunday for the fall opening. It is hoped that last year's record attendance will be increased again this year, as transportation throughout the parish is taken care of by members of the parish, who pick up the children with their cars. New teachers have been added this year with Audrey Costan and Betty Johnson teaching the Beginners. The Primary class will be taken by Morna Monroe, and Olive Jones; the Junior class with Mrs. E. Baisley teaching until a regular teacher can be found. The Seniors are taught by Rev. Albert Ongley, with William Johnson elected as the new Secretary for the coming year.

Classes will commence the coming Sunday at 8:15 p.m. and throughout the community newcomers are hoped for. During the past season children between the ages of 3 and fifteen, came from as far as Grimsby, Vinemount, and as far west as the monument.

BIG RALLY PLANNED FOR RABBIT BREEDERS

If you are a rabbit breeder, or are interested in the breeding of Angoras and fur bearing rabbits, then don't miss the opportunity to attend the Ontario Angora Breeders' Rally on Sunday, Sept. 18th, 1949, to be held in S.S. No. 3, school at North Grimsby on No. 8 highway, 2 1/2 miles east of Winona. Sponsored by the Angora Breeders' Club of Hamilton, the affair will be the third annual Rally of this gathering held.

Anyone interested in rabbits will find a definite interest, and a cordial invitation is extended by the club to all. An opportunity to learn up-to-date methods in this field, and an opportunity to make new contacts will be one feature of coming. The speakers will be the best with the following prominent leaders and breeders expected to take part in the program: Wm. E. Otto of Colborne, Ont.; Milford Spencer of Spencerport, New York; Earl J. Snyder, Independent Wool buyer of Kent, Ohio; E. Elliot of Hamilton; Thos. Wragg, Canadian Rabbit Judge, Islington; Mrs. Olive Hinegartner of Niagara Falls, N. Y.; many others will be there also, and the day will be a full one. The rally begins at 11:00 a.m. and runs through to 5:30 p.m.

Raffle tickets will be sold on a box of beautiful Angora wool. The plastic box contains ten balls of different coloured wool. Donated by Earl Snyder of Kent, Ohio, this is a prize well worth winning. Tickets will be 10c or 1 for 25c.

The morning session will begin with an opening address and at 11:30 a demonstration of plucking the rabbit will be accompanied with a talk, then a lesson in clipping electrically with clippers. Lunch will be served, and the afternoon session will begin with a talk by Mrs. Hinegartner on the History of Spinning. From 2 o'clock to 2:30 the Killing of Rabbit by Dislocation will be accompanied by a talk and demonstration, including dressing and packing. Another demonstration follows on Tattooing of Rabbits, Wool Grading, and Marketing.

Those who attend are invited to visit the rabbit display department in the basement and see the different breeds of rabbits. These rabbits have been judged for points and you will see the recordings on each hutch. Learn more about rabbits, and learn to raise better rabbits. Is the message given by Mrs. Irene Hulbert, Secretary of the Association, to all interested. Admission 50c per person, children under 14 years free.

SHOO, FLY! AND MONTREAL MEANS IT

Bonneau market in downtown Montreal gets a good cleaning with a 25c per cent. DDT spray as the city winds up the first of a two-day experimental campaign to keep flies away from food markets and other breeding places. Periodical checks will be made during succeeding weeks by city sanitary inspectors to see how well the spray is doing its job.

City health department officials had full co-operation of the national war on pest campaign committee in carrying out their first offensive against flies with the famous wartime chemical. Jeep-borne equipment made it possible for more than three-quarters of a million square feet on markets and stockyards to be sprayed the first day.

By "HIGH" MCGREGOR

Come the news from Peach King president Harold Harris, that the Peach Kings will definitely be entered in Senior "B" hockey this winter and that's for sure with no strings attached.

Upon receipt of this information from the president of the dead old Peach Kings, we checked further to gain additional news, and learned that more will be forthcoming by next week, following a conference between McVicar and officials of the Peach Kings Club and outside interests.

To finance the team which will be worked on a different basis than in the past, a refrigerator will be drawn for with tickets going on sale before too many days have passed. In addition to the draw the hockey programme so successfully backed by the merchants, businessmen and interested persons last year will again be compiled, with advertising space again being sold as a means of financing the red and white. The programme will again be sold at the Arena, the receipts of the sale helping in a large measure to cover the cost of printing.

Having been rebuffed severely by officials of the Silver Mills girls' softball team, we hasten to beg their pardon and inform readers that they are still in the running and in a keenly contested series with Community Beach for the district championship. At least they were on Monday night. (See report of game elsewhere on this page). Sponsored by Bill Byford, the girls have successfully downed the opposition, including Beamsville and Winona, and are hopeful of being declared the charter winners of the West Lincoln Girls' Softball League.

It would be interesting, should the Mills win out to have an exhibition game between them and the Grimsby Beach team, winners of another softball league.

On Friday afternoon the Silver Mills defeated Beamsville in an exhibition contest held at the Beamsville Fair, winning fifteen dollars cash, although the prize was to have been thirty bucks.

15th ANNUAL FRUIT TOURNAMENT A GREAT SUCCESS

The sun shone brightly for the 15th annual Fruit Tournament sponsored by the Grimsby Lawn Bowling Club, and 32 risks competed throughout the afternoon for a raft of silverware prizes, as well as boxes of Grimsby's most choice peaches. The display of all varieties of fruit now in season set up by Niagara Packers Ltd., drew praise from the out of town bowlers, who also enjoyed juicy peaches while the tension of competing for the grand prizes became very keen.

Rinks were present from Buffalo, Niagara Falls, N.Y., St. Catharines, Hamilton, Beamsville, Grimsby, Dunnville, Brampton, Oakville, Toronto, Guelph, Elora, Kitchener and Waterloo. Lloyd Spalding, president of the Provincial Lawn Bowling Association awarded the prizes at the completion of play, and also spoke briefly to the bowlers with a pat on the back given to Grimsby, sponsors of the tournament which has gained considerable prominence since its inception.

The Lou Burns Rose Bowl Trophy was won by Bobby Bell of Hamilton Fernleigh, while the second major trophy, the Millyard Trophy, was won by Fred Smart of Niagara Falls, Ontario.

Awards of flat silverware were presented to W. Sharp of Hamilton Roselawn, who placed third, also to J. Anderson, Hyde Park, Tom Conway, Hamilton Strathcona, William McDickens, Hyde Park, Ted Putter, Grimsby, and William Brown, Hamilton Roselawn.

Additional prizes consisting of choice boxes of fruit from the heart of the great Niagara Fruit Belt were presented to W. Anderson, Oakville, J. McDonald, Hamilton, A. Crouse, Toronto, and Dave Alton, Grimsby.

The Hard Lock prize was one of the choicest of the afternoon. It was won by Walter Miner of Brampton. Prizes were also awarded to Edgar Woods of Hamilton, the oldest bowler on the greens, and to Harry Robinson of St. Catharines, the youngest contestant in the tournament.

George Warner, games secretary told The Independent that much of the credit for the success of the 15th annual tournament was due to the generosity of those growers donating packages of fruit and also to the Niagara Packers, whose display was one of the best ever.

Belcot, of Smithville, turned back two teams to win forty pieces of lettuce at the Beamsville Fair. Beamsville chose what they considered easy victims in the first game, but were snuffed out by Abingdon, who were later downed by the Peach Kings, who previously had drubbed a team from Thompson's Products. The Kings won both games by a fourteen to four score. Here of the afternoon was old Doc Schwab, erstwhile manager of the Kings, who took up his old position behind the plate. Doc not only caught good ball, but hit almost every time at bat, including a four base clout with an assist to the fielder. It just goes to show that you can't keep old war horses like Fred Doc Schwab out of action. Nice going, Doc me lad. . . However it was son Charlie who was the apple of Doc's eye all afternoon, as the sailor currently home on leave turned in some fine softball at shortstop for the Kings and displayed a lot of power with the bat.

The male students are getting so tiny at G.H.S. that it appears unlikely that the school will field a senior team this autumn. Meanwhile Coach Frank Poutka is putting a large group of freshmen through their paces in an attempt to give the school a Junior Midway team. Coach Poutka has asked this columnist to appeal to readers for football equipment that may be around their homes and not in use. The forty or so boys at the school could certainly put equipment such as shoulder pads, cleats and all the rest to very practical use. . . So if you have some of Junior's old equipment around, contact us here at The Independent or Coach Poutka, at Grimsby High.

The Junior team has been entered in the Niagara division of the C.O.S.S.A. and Poutka expects to make a good showing with his eager young charges. Boys failing to make the Junior team will automatically find a berth on the mid-way squad.

GALS SOFTBALL FINALS RUGGED AFFAIR

Guaranteed to get your blood pressure up above the boiling point, and in general to cause everyone to forget that he is a gentleman or lady—for they seem to be the most inspired to yell heated and oftentimes vulgar expressions at the umpires, players and just anyone at all. Yes, that about sums up the crucial playoff contest between Grimsby's Silver Mills and the girls' team of Community Beach.

All appeared quiet as the two teams warmed up prior to the contest which was to decide the West Lincoln Girls' Softball Championship. But when Bub House called "play ball" all manners quickly disappeared and the fans really became enthused. But quick.

Now this happens to be the first game we have covered this season, as the Kingston flagpole has been doing the job, but actually we are sorry that the season is now nearly finished, not that the calibre of ball is so hot, it's just because the male likes to look at players like this

The locals got off to a good start with young Glenda Moore on the mound, and with Marj Lawson slapping the pill out over the fence for a home run, and Grimsby led two to nothing at the end of the first inning.

In the second a gal by the name of Chris walloped the basket for a loop for the Beaches first run. It seems that in girls' softball the scorekeepers use the first names of the players, so we brewed over to the Beach bench to obtain this gal's last name. We were astounded when the astute scorekeeper grunted "T dunn."

We were even more astounded when a lady in the Beach cheering section wretchedly screamed at us "what's wrong know fer." We became even more suspicious that our gal Chris was on the import list when the hole darn cheering section, and a manager, coach and what he you, could not dream up name for Chris.

Well, we opted Chris like a hot potato, which she is as far as a player is concerned, her peg to first base would make some of our local male players scurry under the hem for cover.

Grimsby all led 4-3 at the end of three, it went one behind in the fourth, and four down after the Mills outfielder did a dipsey doodle on a fly ball that went for a home run. By this time it was pretty dark, and the Beaches were leading fourteen to four, and the ump called the game when the Mills got their fifth run. Feelings were running a trifle high, and by the looks of things there will be another game, for the league officials have ruled that seven innings must be played to constitute a full game. Boy, wouldn't miss the next game for anything, not even if Chris throws a couple of right jabs in our direction. Good old Chris.

SILVER MILLS EVEN SERIES WITH COMMUNITY BEACH

Grimsby Silver Mills defeated Community Beach to even the series, as Elsie Trechuk hurled the Mills to a nine to six win over the packed Beach team. A large crowd of local fans visited the school grounds to see the local girls overshadow the visitors whose sportsmanship leaves much to be desired.

Grimsby's big innings were the third and fourth when they picked up seven runs, while the Beaches countered with a big five run last inning rally that was nipped before it became too dangerous. Batteries—Grimsby: Trechuk and Byford; Beach, McKay and Wilson. Grimsby 903 402—9 11 4 Beach 001 005—6 6 8 Be prolific—you can spell pro. at from the same letters.

ONE-ARMED MAN LEAPS TO RESCUE OF DROWNING BOY

Fred Mills, of Bobcaygeon, Ont., pulls boy from canal at Lindsay.

Hearing screams coming from the bank of the Trent Canal at Lindsay, Ontario, Fred Mills rushed to the scene and saw a 5-year-old boy struggling in the deep canal water. The youngster was on the verge of drowning. According to witnesses, Mills did not even pause to remove his shirt. Fully clothed, he dove into the canal and managed to grasp the little victim. Then, unaided and in spite of his handicap, Mills brought the almost unconscious boy to shore and revived him. We are proud to recognize the bravery and quick presence of mind of Fred Mills through the presentation of THE DOW AWARD.

THE DOW AWARD is a citation presented for acts of outstanding heroism and includes a $100 Canada Savings Bond. The Dow Award Committee, a group of editors of leading Canadian daily newspapers, selects winners from recommendations made by a nationally known news organization.

EMERGENCIES IN THE HOME

(BY D. V. Currey, M.D., Director, St. Catharines-Lincoln Health Unit)

Today we continue our talks about emergencies in the home, and as stated last week, you mothers must know something about first aid so that you may treat these emergencies properly and promptly. It is not necessary for you to assume responsibilities that belong to the doctor, but you should know enough so that you do not allow a minor injury to become a major one.

Falls give a mother considerable trouble, as these are the most common home emergencies. If after a fall a limb cannot be moved properly or if there is much pain, certain things must be done. First put the limb at rest in as natural a position as possible, and call a physician. There may be a simple fracture of one of the bones, so it is important that the limb should not be moved because the end of the bone might come out through the skin making a compound fracture which is much more serious than a simple one. If there is a compound fracture do not attempt to put the ends of the bone back, keep the patient comfortable but do not apply any dressings but wait for the doctor to come.

When the bones in a joint get out of position it is called a dislocation. The joint looks out of shape when compared with the similar joint, and does not move as freely, and there is usually severe pain. With the exception of a dislocation of the finger do not try to replace the joint, but send for a doctor. Lie the patient down in the most convenient position and apply cold water or ice bag. A dislocated finger, however, may be put in place by pulling on the finger and with your thumb pressing on the dislocated joint until it slips into place.

When the ligaments around a joint or attaching muscle to the bones are torn, it is called a sprain. There is pain, swelling and usually some discoloration. Sometimes what appears to the mother to be a sprain is really a fracture, so we advise you to call a doctor for any sprain. In the meantime, support the joint and keep it raised. Gently applying hot and cold cloths to the joint will often relieve severe pain.

A strain is much like a sprain except that the trouble is in a muscle which has been stretched beyond its capacity. The pain usually is relieved by putting the part to rest and applying towels wrung out of hot water. Later, massage is a help and almost any type of liniment can be used. If the pain is very severe it is wise to call your physician.

Every member of the family receives a bruise now and again caused by falling, or by some blow to the body. The skin is not broken, but the underlying tissues are injured so that some of the small vessels are broken and the part soon becomes black and blue. The treatment at first is to apply cloths wrung out of cold water, but when the part has become discolored, hot water and applications are advisable.

Foreign bodies which have become lodged in the eye or ear may give a great deal of trouble, and you must know something about removing them. With a foreign body in the eye, instruct the patient not to rub the eye, but have him close the lids gently in the hope that tears will wash the speck out of the eye or into view, and then it may be removed. A clean medicine dropper may be used to wash the eye with boric acid solution. Take hold of the upper eyelashes and pull the lid down over the lower one. If the speck can be seen it may be lifted out with a little absorbent cotton on the end of a match. After removal a drop of castor oil put into the eye is very soothing. If the speck cannot be seen or is adhering to the eyeball itself, do not attempt the removal of this but take the patient to a doctor. Should acid, lime or any other chemical get into the eye, flush the eye out with quantities of clear water until a doctor can see the patient.

Children often have the habit of putting buttons or other small articles in the ear. If you try to remove them you will likely push the article in further. Take the child to a doctor at once. If an insect enters the ear put in a few drops of castor oil and take the child to a physician.

Sharp articles like broken glass, pins or nails will sometimes be swallowed by a child. In these cases encourage him to eat plenty of mashed potatoes or bread, but do not give any liquid or laxative, but get the advice of your physician. If a small coin is swallowed there is little to worry about. If it passes through the throat it will pass through the rest of the intestinal tract without trouble.

10-YEAR-OLD TAKES MILKING HONORS

Everly Fraser, 10, is shown winning the 1949 milking championship at the dairyland festival in Watertown, N.Y., by milking 11.8 pounds (over four quarts) in two minutes. The contest was the climax of a gala week of parades and pageants at Watertown.

NEW CHEMICAL TO REPLACE DDT AS LIVESTOCK SPRAY

A new insecticide—methoxychlor—expected to replace DDT as a livestock spray, is now available in Canada, it is announced by Canadian Industries Limited.

More lethal to some insects than DDT yet less toxic to human beings, the new chemical was developed in the U.S. It has already been adopted there as a standard cattle spray to control several species of flies which are responsible for millions of dollars in losses annually to American and Canadian beef production.

Extensive experiments by Canadian federal, provincial and industrial entomologists during the past two years are highly successful, stated C.R. Asher, development manager of C-I-L's agricultural chemicals division.

Methoxychlor was recommended as a fly spray when U.S. health authorities feared a dangerous amount of DDT in milk and meat from treated livestock. Methoxychlor, on the other hand, is said to leave practically no residue in the flesh of animals and is only 1/24 as toxic as DDT, Mr. Asher reported.

Wettable DDT is still widely used in Canada as a cattle spray although certain reports that DDT-resistant fly strains are developing. Where the problem has been encountered, methoxychlor was tried as a control with great success.

"Introduction of methoxychlor does not mean DDT is on the way out," the agricultural scientist explained. "The insect is still an excellent insect killer and will continue to be used controlling pests that attack such crops as tobacco, fruit and certain vegetable crops. The new chemical, however, will eliminate human health hazards created by DDT and serve as a lethal weapon against the so-called 'super-fly'."

HEAVY TRAVEL

Of the millions of persons who commute on scores of American railroads more than 21 per cent ride on one line—the Long Island Rail Road—in 1948. This company, incidentally, is one of the five in the United States that still spell railroad, in their name, as two words.

Stuff Round Town

By GORD MCGREGOR

The O'Brien Deer Capers continue to highlight the Grimsby scene this week as the lost buck threatens to demolish the usually staid residential section of Livingston and Korman Avenues. The bounding bighorn carried the pink car of a lady packing peaches on Tuesday afternoon, this display of affection immediately bolstered the spirits of everyone concerned with the case.

"It definitely proves that the animal is not entirely a savage beast," stated the weary James.

Although most people are getting a kick from the entire caper, one gentleman of foreign extraction is not very happy about the searchers wending their way through his orchard of ragweed and rose hedges.

Waving his arms wildly he attempted to show the search party away, but was given a terrific jolt when told to "drop dead"—this was most annoying to the gent who just lacks a good sense of humor.

The animal has now become the ward of the government, but even the Liberals could hardly be expected to hog the deer, which is far different than shooting a bull, at which they oftentimes excel.

We understand that two of Canada's foremost rope artists will arrive this weekend to attempt a capture. In conjunction with this a Deer Party is being held by the foot-sore James. Dress will be optional.

The Brewster Retail Store opened this morning with Guy Winters and the manager James Fremont prepared to serve the wants of the public. Still not completed, the store is most attractive and spacious enough for a town considerably larger than Grimsby. Judging from the size of the warehouse, it is not unlikely that this warehouse will service the hotels of the district before long. This, of course, is merely supposition.

Perhaps you were among the thousands who lined up like sheep to view the Hope Diamond, the Star of the East, and the Dudley Necklace at the Exhibition. No doubt you will recall the uniformed men who may have been city police, Brinks express men or special agents, but who acted more like Hitler's storm troopers as they alternately pushed, abused and chorused the public around the display of cut glass.

Personally, we take a very dim view to having a cop treat you like a common criminal. Besides, what common jerk would be even remotely interested in the ice that brings bad luck to everyone that becomes the owner of it.

However, a more pleasant observation of the big show is the fact that Canadians are flush with dough—they must be if you take into consideration the way they were tossing it around the midway, which is absolutely the best place in Canada to relieve yourself of the green stuff. There are probably two reasons why the people wander around with their mouths open at the Ek: 1. They just tasted a typical hamburger and the rubbery effect was still reacting, or: 2. They had just realized how badly they were clipped for a nickel balloon that cost them a buck.

CAR IN FUNERAL PROCESSION STRUCK

One car in the funeral cortege of the late Edward J. Calnan, victim of a Quebec air crash last week, was struck Tuesday morning east of Beamsville as the procession was enroute to Grafton where interment was to be made. The auto driven by Norman Schluter of Lincoln, Ontario, came from the Bartlett sidewalk and ran into a car driven by Thomas Calnan.

Both cars were damaged but no person was injured. The occupants of the Calnan car continued on to the cemetery in another vehicle.

At the time of the accident the funeral cortege was under the escort of Provincial Constable Doug Robbie. Prov. Constable Frank Conroy investigated the accident and it is probable charges will be laid.

SET TOMATO PROFIT AT $102 PER ACRE

Recorded costs from 162 growers in four Ontario counties, each compiled separately by the Farm Economics Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture, reveals that it cost an average of $173.40 to produce an acre of tomatoes in 1948. The figure includes cost of planting, treatment of soil, and harvesting.

Net return per acre was $102.74, the survey, conducted in the counties of Essex, Kent, Norfolk and Prince Edward, reveals. In calculating costs, actual expenses, even to depreciation on farm machinery, were included.

Incidentally, Dr. H. L. Patterson, Director of the Farm Economics Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, is releasing the figures, points out that for the four counties, each computed by a different person, net returns varied only a few cents.

Time employed per acre, in preparation of soil varied considerably. In the county of Essex man hours per acre was seven. In Kent it was eight hours. In Norfolk nine, but in Prince Edward seed-bed preparation required 18 man hours per acre. Harvesting on the other hand involved from 75 to 100 man hours per acre.

Receipts per ton delivered were recorded as $36.29 in Essex; $36.29 in Kent; $27.25 in Norfolk and $28.22 in Prince Edward. Receipts per acre delivered, were $266.34 for Essex; $299.15 for Kent; $267.84 for Norfolk, and $266.67 for Prince Edward.

Yields per acre averaged 20,000 pounds in Essex; 23,450 for Kent; 19,624 for Norfolk, and 19,113 pounds for Prince Edward.

Costs per acre were recorded as $165.75 in Essex; $194.67 in Kent; $173.55 in Norfolk, and $155.80 in Prince Edward.

Complete results of the survey with a breakdown of all costs and returns, have been sent to all co-operating growers and Agricultural Representatives. Anyone wishing a copy can do so by writing the Farm Economics Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture, Parliament Buildings, Toronto.

WILL PLANT ORCHARD APRICOT SEEDLINGS

Next year something new will be planted on old peach land at the Dominion Experimental Station, Harrow, Ont. The something new will be apricot seedlings, which were budded to Valiant and Elberta peach varieties in 1948, and the idea is to see if an apricot-peach union can be made permanent and productive.

The black peach aphid, or peach root-aphid, got the horticulturists started on the project in the first place. This aphid lives on the roots of established peach trees without apparently affecting the growth or productivity of the trees. But when old, infested trees are replaced by young, clean trees, aphids left behind like soil swarms to the young replants with disastrous results.

Two methods were tried to discourage the aphids. One was to let the peach acreage in the orchard lie fallow for three years, hoping the aphids would get tired of waiting to go away. But the aphids wouldn't take the hint at Harrow. They stayed on beyond the three years. And that meant the cost of letting the land lie idle became prohibitive.

Another method was to bed the new trees down with a clay pack at planting time, since it was known that the aphid does not like heavy soil, it this proved too cumbersome.

But in August of 1948, a collection of "flying rootstocks" for peach trees—planted at Harrow, included were root seedlings of an unknown variety, and seedlings of the Lemon, Elberta, Gold Drop, Banner and Kalamazoo peach varieties.

Some of the new trees were pulled up in June that year and the roots were found to be infested with the peach root aphid. A few trees of each peach seedling rootstock were then examined and infection was found in each case.

An examination of the apricot seedlings was more promising. An occasional colony of mature aphids was noted on the roots, but the over-all infestation was almost negligible when compared with the peach seedlings.

That discovery was enough to encourage the horticulturists. They went ahead and budded apricot seedlings to the Valiant and Elberta peach varieties and next year expect that the trees will be ready for testing in old peach tree soil. Peach growers in the Niagara district, as well as in southwestern Ontario, will be keenly interested in the final result of this experiment.

"COAT CARDS"

Playing cards bearing the pictures of kings, queens and knaves are not called court cards because they depict figures connected with a court of royalty. Court is a corruption of the word coat, their original name having been "coat cards" because the individuals wear coats.
